In the Hanover Tradition...

Traditionally, the Revonah . . . Backwards, it spells Hanover, and the river, since this college was founded, has meant Hanover to all who have known them both.

Themes for yearbooks vary, but our river is always a part of anything Hanoverian. Traditions, too, become modified through time, and some of the best ones, unfortunately, disappear. It is not so with the river—you who read this book; if you have been long away from Hanover, can see that the river is the same. Know, too, that behind these pillars still moves the unchanging spirit of which the river is a symbol.

The 1947 Revonah is the story of the people who lived and worked a lot, and loved and cried a little, behind these pillars but always within sight of the tradition that is the river.

The 1947 REVONAH

Class in Dr. Parkers Dining Room.

Shakespeare in the Sigma Chi House.

Social Problems, Room 104.

Classes are the Reason for it all and 8:00 meant first hour every morning we had to get up for it. We had to allow a little extra time to get to class there for a while. But January 6, we returned from Christmas vacation and had classes in Classic Hall.

It took a little time for the girls to become accustomed to walking in and out of the frat' houses unescorted. There were classes at the Y.W.C.A., in the houses of Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Chi, Donner basement, and even Dr. Parker's dining room. Now a semester in Classic Hall finds us still wondering why the fountains are so low, and it's a wise upperclassman who knows where to find the various faculty offices.

Field trips, note slips, and cramming were the order of the day and there were three things certain in life: Death, Taxes, and FINALS.

We obeyed Hanover traditions The traditional "Hello" came particularly hard to some of the returned veterans for a while. But everyone still speaks to everyone else at Hanover. There are no green hats on the Upperclass Walk and there is no smoking inside the Circle. [It says here!]

Six hundred plus sets an enrollment record for the school, and there have been a few changes. Blue jeans and bandannas disappeared from the classroom with the return of a masculine majority.

"Do a thing twice and it's a Hanover tradition," is a bit of an exaggeration. The Franklin Bell . . . May Day . . . the floating of pins . . . Homecoming . . . Beta Rock . . . The Well House. . . . These have been a part of college for a long time. There are a few modernistic additions to the list—the pin ball machine . . . "Have you ever lived on $65 a month?" . . . the cafeteria line . . . are examples.

As this goes to press, the Student Council is searching for a boat for the excursion, "Uncle Joe" still drives his Fordis Tincannis, and no-one treads upon the Greek letters in the sidewalk between Donner Hall and the Post Office.

Entrance—Ball Drive.

Upperclass Walk.

No [?] Smoking.

To and from class.

Parker Home, Observatory, Faculty.

Telegraph Hill.

To live in the presence of great beauty is a force not to be overlooked. Beauty, at Hanover, is a tradition. Go at night, when you cannot see the tulips, past the Circle and stop before the Three Trees. Look south and know that the beauty of the bend of the Ohio is there in the blackness. Or wait until morning and watch the mist swim out of the valley as you go to class.

"It's lovely in the spring." Do you remember Crowe Falls encased in ice? Or the sound of dry levees underfoot? How a snowflake looks on a Chem' book?

Progress was everywhere evident and we wouldn't have missed it for the world! Where else could one be late to class because work-men had dynamited the sidewalk and held up traffic? Remember the day they unwrapped the columns at Classic?—The skeleton that became the shiny tower on the Chapel?—Leaning out the window to watch the lift carry men and bricks to the upper floors of the new Science Hall?

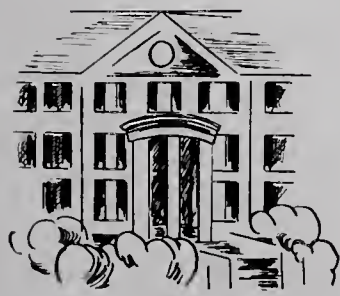

And the mud? Remember the mud!—The wall of clay before the Phi Delt House?—Brick-layers eating lunch as you hurried from an extended 4th hour?—The way they moved the trees to keep ahead of construction and then dug them up again?—The time the Triangle clamored for coat-hooks in Classic and a parking lot for the commuters?

Tribute to those who Sacrificed All

It's a Hanover Tradition

Hanover's faculty have long borne the brunt for a host of pranks and silly little remembrances. There's Dr. Martin and his dyed-in-the-wool Republicanism. Every Hanover student has heard about Dr. Hogue and his mania for horses. Remember the day Dr. McCain and one of her classes had to evacuate that elevated classroom at Classic—she was tall enough to reach the chalk tray but that was about all. Were any of you present the day Dr. Zirkle told one of his classes, "Alcohol doesn't pay—I know?" It seems that experience was not his teacher as the statement implied, but rather the patients at Elgin Mental Hospital.

Then there's Miss Fitton: she has resumed normalcy now that she no longer has to wring her hands agonizingly to plead with students to claim their library refunds. Dr. Conklin's habitual forgetfulness is always good for a hearty laugh; by the way, his old method of checking the class roll by counting heads has been partially outmoded. It proved to be entirely too confusing and strenuous for the worshipping "Roosevelt" fan. Mrs. Whallon's problems increased tenfold this year. "Stair-wells" and "necking" are two words which send her to the bottom of despair.

These are some of the things which we remember about our faculty. Hanover's faculty! Two words will describe them—they're tops!

NEXT PAGE—Miss Fitton
Mr. Hyatt, Mr. Austin.

DEANS — Whallon, Hogue and Zirkle.

Seriously, the faculty have helped make Hanover the Hanover it is today—a place of higher learning endowed and founded on Christian beliefs and brotherhood. To them, Hanoverians everywhere offer a tribute. Their guidance and friendship are an integral part of the friendly tradition that has symbolized this campus throughout the years.

He's a Hanover Tradition

Then there were the people . . . ordinary people, the ones we spoke to every day—There was Margo Davis on the A.D. Porch . . . Mr. Miller and his brief-case . . . Jerry Hooten, her freshman cap tied down with ribbon . . . Kitty Kirchmier with a Southern drawl . . . Andy Hauck and his car . . . Prigge pedalling furiously on his bicycle . . . Di Giacomo, who didn't notice when Hanover went on Daylight Saving Time and was an hour late to every class . . . Bob Gabriel at the Bookstore . . . Bonnie Griffiths and Helen Eberly on crutches for weeks and weeks . . . The Phi Gams moving their chairs from porch to lawn as the weather dictated.

There were others whom we didn't see but certainly heard enough about—The Native whose Return was eagerly awaited by the Freshmen . . . and Smoe and Kilroy whom we hadn't known 'till this year.

The Seniors, because they were upperclassmen, went first. On the pages that follow are Hanover's people '46-'47—Seniors first.

It's a Hanover Tradition

Activities a hurried round of them—hurrying from song practices to French Club—home to write a story for the Triangle.—Remember Homecoming?—May Day and "What if it rains?"—The W.S.S.F. Bazaar in the fall and their Night Club in May?—Rehearsing for the plays?—The dinner the church gave for the choir?

There was the Razzangle, too—they called it Das Rat's Angle and made much of Donner chow and the veteran's rebellion. We started The Hanover Saddle Club, the Music Club; there were enough fellows for a Masonic group.

Remember the State Trooper who took pictures for the Revonah?—The time the stove pipe fell down at Band rehearsal? There was lots going on—we spent as much time enumerating the meetings we had on the calendar as we did actually attending them. But it was fun!

Serving to bring together the faculty and the students in matters affecting the entire college body was the Student Council composed of student representatives of the organized groups on the campus.

In the spring a faculty committee met with the council to re-write a constitution for the Student Council. This was in response to a campus-wide cry for a revision of the method of election.

FIRST ROW—P. Orewiler, M. Davis, J. Lambert.

SECOND ROW—R. Meyne, J. Hubbard, T. Hull, W. Huber.

The Student Council budgeted the student activity fee and sponsored social and recreational events, and presented student problems, ideas, affairs and desires before the faculty in conjunction with the Student Affairs Committee.

The officers this year were: Robert Meyne, President; and Phyllis Orewiler, Secretary-treasurer.

With Hanoverians living all over the campus this year, the Dormitory Council has expanded its interests beyond Donner Hall. Newby Hall, College Point House and Parker's residents are now under the jurisdiction of the Dormitory Council who select proctors for the other residences and Donner Hall.

Remember those crowded stairwells after a formal dance?—How Alice McNally worried about her Point House girls?—And what to do when there was no water after preparing for a shower?

Open house, stairwell problems, disciplinary matters—these are just a few of the problems brought before the Dormitory Council each Wednesday night.

Yes, this has been a distinctive year for the Dormitory Council!

Gamma Sigma Pi founded in 1926, is an honorary scholastic fraternity of Hanover College. Students may qualify for Gamma Sigma Pi by making an average of 2.5 or better for two out of three consecutive semesters; and in order to remain a member of this organization, it is necessary to maintain an average of 2. each semester. The President this year was Rachel Kopel.

A vital organization on campus was the college choir which provided music for the Sunday services at the Hanover Presbyterian Church. Under the direction of Miss Ruth Graham, the choir had special Easter and Christmas programs.

The band, with Professor Max Poland directing, added that necessary spirit to the games. Rehearsals were held twice weekly and one-half credit was given towards graduation for participation in the band.

"Arsenic And Old Lace" . . . For weeks the Hanover campus had bustled with the flurry of preparations for the big night. The sound of hammers had resounded menacingly from Wood's Field House. "No! No! Like this!" an agitated director shouted. The usual banter and rail-lery of rehearsals was prevalent. But finally, as all things must, the big moment arrived.

Lights out! On stage everybody! Curtains going up! The eager audience sank back in their chairs with a contented "yum." "Arsenic and Old Lace," Joseph Kesserling's fast-moving, hilarious, murder comedy, was being enacted upon the stage. Once again the "Hanover Players" became an important, traditional name on the Hanover campus.

At the very onset peals of laughter were wrested from the satisfied audience. The naive antics of the two charming old maids . . . "Charge!" ringing from the dafters of the fieldhouse . . . Boris Karloff's new understudy . . . yes, "Arsenic and Old Lace" will long be remembered.

The masterful cast, capably directed by Professor Don Watters lived their parts. The curtain dropped. The din of hand-clapping was terrific. Once more Hanover had shown her dramatic prowess. Another traditional success was marked down to Hanover's credit.

The Triangle, the college newspaper, was in its thirty-ninth year of continuous publication, and reported the news as accurately as possible. This was the first year since 1941-42 that the Triangle had been published weekly. Weekly publication was discontinued because of fewer students due to the war.

This year was also remarkable in that the Triangle went to bat for students or groups of students who felt that they were not getting a fair deal. The Triangle brought issues to the attention of faculty members which would otherwise have passed with out being considered.

Alpha Phi Gamma was established on the Hanover campus to encourage good work on campus publications and to arouse an appreciation of good work in journalism.

This year seven new pledges were initiated by the President Elmer Cushing. The other officers were Margaret Davis, Vice-President and Jean Lambert, Secretary-Treasurer.

Dr. Conklin, who is one of the members of Alpha Phi Gamma, was recently appointed to the position of Eastern Vice-President of the national fraternity.

The Student Christian Association claimed as members the entire student body and had, of necessity, to be governed by one centralized group. The S.C.A. Cabinet, under the guidance of Tom Roberts, performed this task.

Through a number of all-college events such as W.S.S.F. drives and all-membership meetings, the group helped to build a strong Christian fellowship and to unite the student body in social and religious activities. It promoted such educational and group activities as the deputation work and student discussion panels. Christmas carolling and the May Day festival are old college traditions sponsored by the Student Christian Association.

The Community Christian Service Club took the place of the former Christian Service Club. Guided by Eleanor Graebe, President, the club made its annual Christmas visit to the Jefferson County Poor Farm. In addition to this, the club entertained Hanover's colored children with an Easter party and gave another party for the benefit of all the children of the community.

Under the co-chairmanship of Jack Malcolm and Dorothy Mueller, deputation teams provided church services and recreational leadership for various community churches who would have otherwise been lacking in such facilities. The teams consisted of approximately thirty participants and were divided into six workable groups.

Chi Epsilon Phi bound together in a fellowship of work, study, discussion, and worship those undergraduate male students who chose the Christian ministry or some other phase of Christian work. The group held bi-monthly meetings and claimed Mark Marshall and Douglas Garwood as President and Secretary-Treasurer, respectively.

In the Hanover Tradition

The red and blue of the growling Panther pack is among the finest of the fine Hanover traditions. The many, many times that the dauntless Hilltoppers have charged forth to defend the honor of the River School shall never be forgotten or go unheralded. Win or lose the Panthers have always presented a team to contend with. Many unsuccessful seasons would have been dark had it not been for the shining light of undying spirit which glowed in the hearts of the Hilltop athletes. This is a Hanover tradition.

Another true tradition is that of the student body. The close loyalty and the great enthusiasm with which it follows its favorite team comes down through the years as a tradition which only age can perfect. The mighty cheers and the eager looks oft-times have meant the margin between victory and defeat.

Yes, the true spirit of fine athletics is a Hanover tradition.

After the Game.

D. Kendall

“Hanover—We’re For You”

Hanover’s sons victorious,
Hanover’s daughters too,
Join in a song of loyalty
And pledge their faith anew,
Undaunted on high our colors fly,
The crimson and the blue,
We rejoice in the fame of your glorious name,
Here’s to Hanover—We’re for you!

Hanover drive on down the field,
Hanover hit the line,
Hanover on to victory,
Roll up that score this time,
Undaunted on high our colors fly,
The crimson and the blue,
So we’ll fight, yes we’ll fight, for the goal’s in sight,
Here’s to Hanover—We’re for you!

Football

The 1946 edition of the Hanover Panther grid machine broke the ice of a sports year in the Hilltop school for the first time since 1942. Coach Don Veller, a former Indiana University grid star and honor student, was at the helm.

Mr. Veller, who came to Hanover after a successful term at Elkhart [Ind.] high school, led his charges to a comparatively successful season. The Vellermen came out on the long end of the games won score, winning four while losing three.. This in itself might be considered a feat because most of the schools, unlike Hanover, did not drop athletics during the war. The Hilltoppers not only outscored their opponents but were unscored uponfor the first three games. The fight, determination, and never-die attitude made them a team to be highly respected.

The Panthers started the first game of the year against Rose Poly with a bang! They took the first kickoff and drove seventy yards down the field for their first score. Defense then became the Hanover watchword and this marker proved to be the winning margin. Rose Poly showed offensive spark in both the second and third quarters but a staunch Hanover defense smothered all their efforts. In the fourth quarter it was only some sensational punting that saved the Panther day. The Engineers repeatedly drove far deep into pay dirt but were held until the gun.

In their second game the Hanoverians proved that their first victory was no fluke. They battled Franklin to a decisive 14-0 win. The game was never at any time out of control of the Panther claws. The men in red and white uniforms took the ball from Franklin by virtue of the four downs rule early in the first quarter and drove quickly to their first touchdown.

Then as in the previous week's game, they stuck to their defense and smothered all Franklin attempts. Using their reserve strength the Panthers scored again in the fourth quarter. This was the game in which the Hilltoppers really got going. They played alert, heads up defense and showed real power in their offense.

Although expected to be one of the toughest teams on the schedule, the Panthers handled the Manchester aggregation without serious difficulty. This game was marked with some unusually crisp, hard, blocking and tackling on the part of the Hanover team. This, combined with hard running of the Panther backs left no doubt in the minds of anyone concerned as to the outcome. The 21-0 score at the final gun left the Hilltoppers still unbeaten and unscored upon.

It was in the Centre game that the Hanover mettle was tried and proved true. Unable to get anywhere in the line the Vellermen took to the air for the first time of the year. Completing eight passes for a total of 126 yards they were able to outscore Centre 27-20. The vicious tackling took its toll, however, as quarterback Stan Warner and fullback Hattie Meyers were injured. Warner was unable to return for the remainder of the season.

Warming Up

The first Hanover loss was taken at the hands of Indiana Central. The Panthers were handed a 7-0 setback in a bitterly contested game. Although they garnered 16 first downs to Indiana Central's 3, the Red and White men were unable to score. They plunged deep into the Greyhounds' territory numerous times but were never able to punch across the last few feet.

The Canterbury game, played under the very worst of football conditions, was the second loss for the Hilltoppers. Mud and rain were much more prominent on the field than was good football. Hampered by fumbles and pass interceptions, the Panthers were unable to rove far from the middle of the gridiron. They showed courage but just couldn't seem to go.

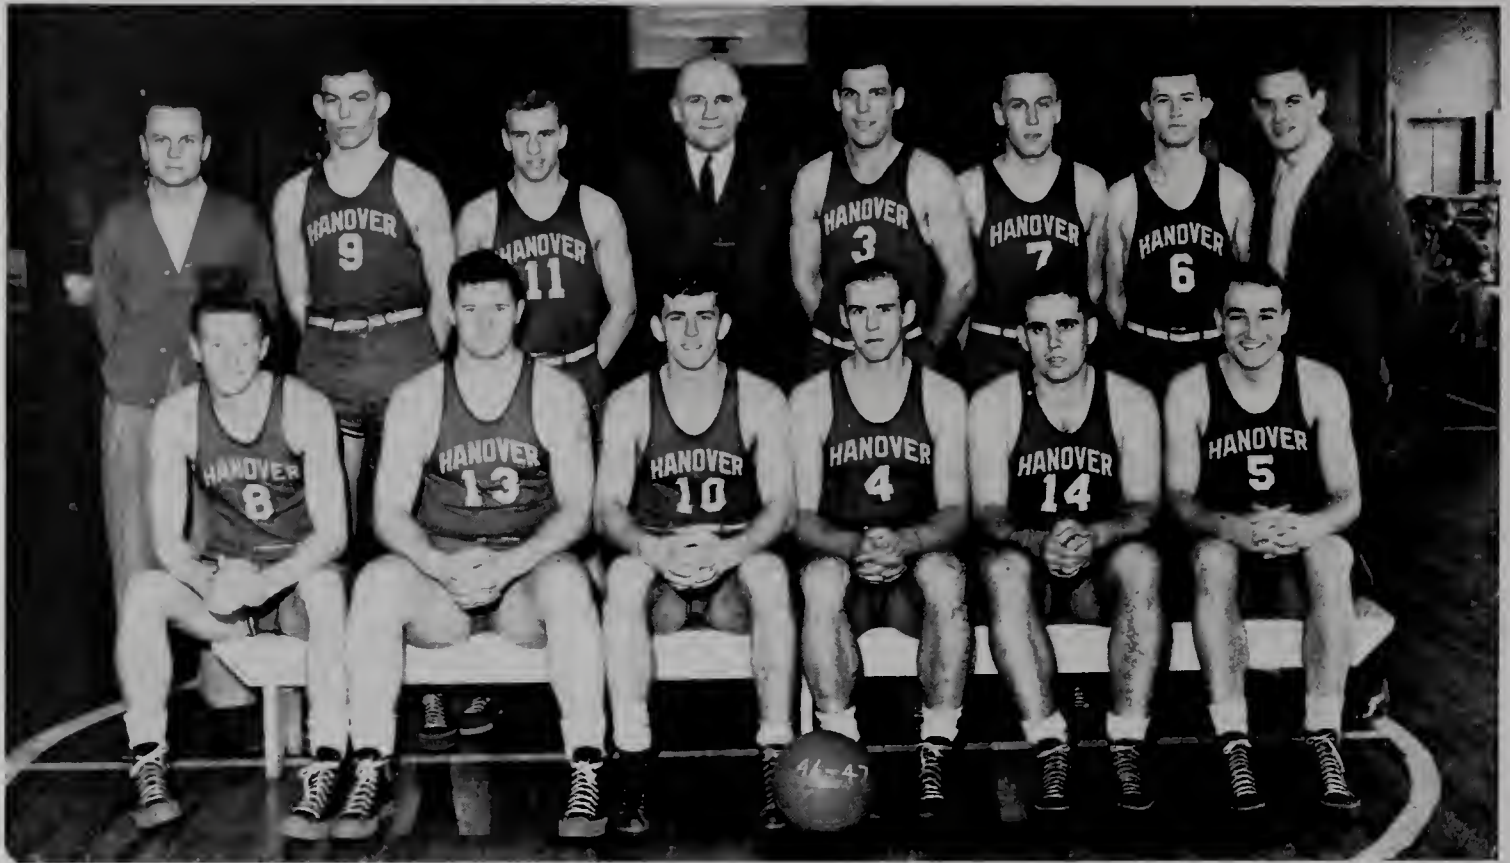

The Georgetown game proved to be an unfortunate anti-climax. The Panthers suffered a 41-7 humbling at the hands of the Southerners. Riddled by injuries and somewhat dampened spirit the Hilltoppers took it on the chin all day. Only once were they able to show an offensive threat. Georgetown, playing inspired ball, seemed to handcuff every attempt Hanover made to break loose.

Hanover did not suffer greatly this year from lack of personnel. In the first week of practice some 92 men reported. Of course this figure dwindled but even toward the latter part of the season 66 men still practiced regularly. Coach Veller distributed 28 letters among the squad. All but two of these went to men who had no previous college experience. Captain Stan Lobred and Bob Barnett were the only former Hanover gridmen to return.

Much credit goes to assistant coach Raymond "Dutch" Struck who handled the linemen. The hard Panther blocking and tackling showed the results of his coaching. Mr. Struck also proved invaluable on the sidelines at game time. His alert eye and quick action many times kept the Hilltop machine from slowing.

All in all, the first Panther post-war season might well be considered quite successful. No records were broken but Hanover presented a team which let the sports world know that we were not to be forgotten.

FIRST ROW—A. Taff, W. Klein, D. Kendall, R. Miller, R. Bolen, E. Warrick.
SECOND ROW—G. Hayworth, H. Fry, W. Guthrie, Coach Struck, M. Baney, R. Neil, S. Varble, R. Hogan.

Basketball

As in all sports at Hanover this year, basketball got its first start since the war. It was a green and inexperienced squad that first reported for training at the opening of the basketball season. To meet these men was a new coach, a freshman to Hanover. He was basketball coach "Dutch" Struck. Yet this new coach, and these new men, by hard work turned out a playing team for the opening game in December. In losing the first game to Union College of Kentucky 55-40, it was very evident that the team needed plenty of experience. But it was also noticeable that Coach Struck had done a remarkable job with this green and inexperienced team.

For Hanover it was not a year of fame, but a year of experience—the hard way—for years ahead. The team improved as the games went by until, by the end of the season, Hanover had a well organized and playing team. That team proved itself definitely on the up-grade by winning the last four out of five games.

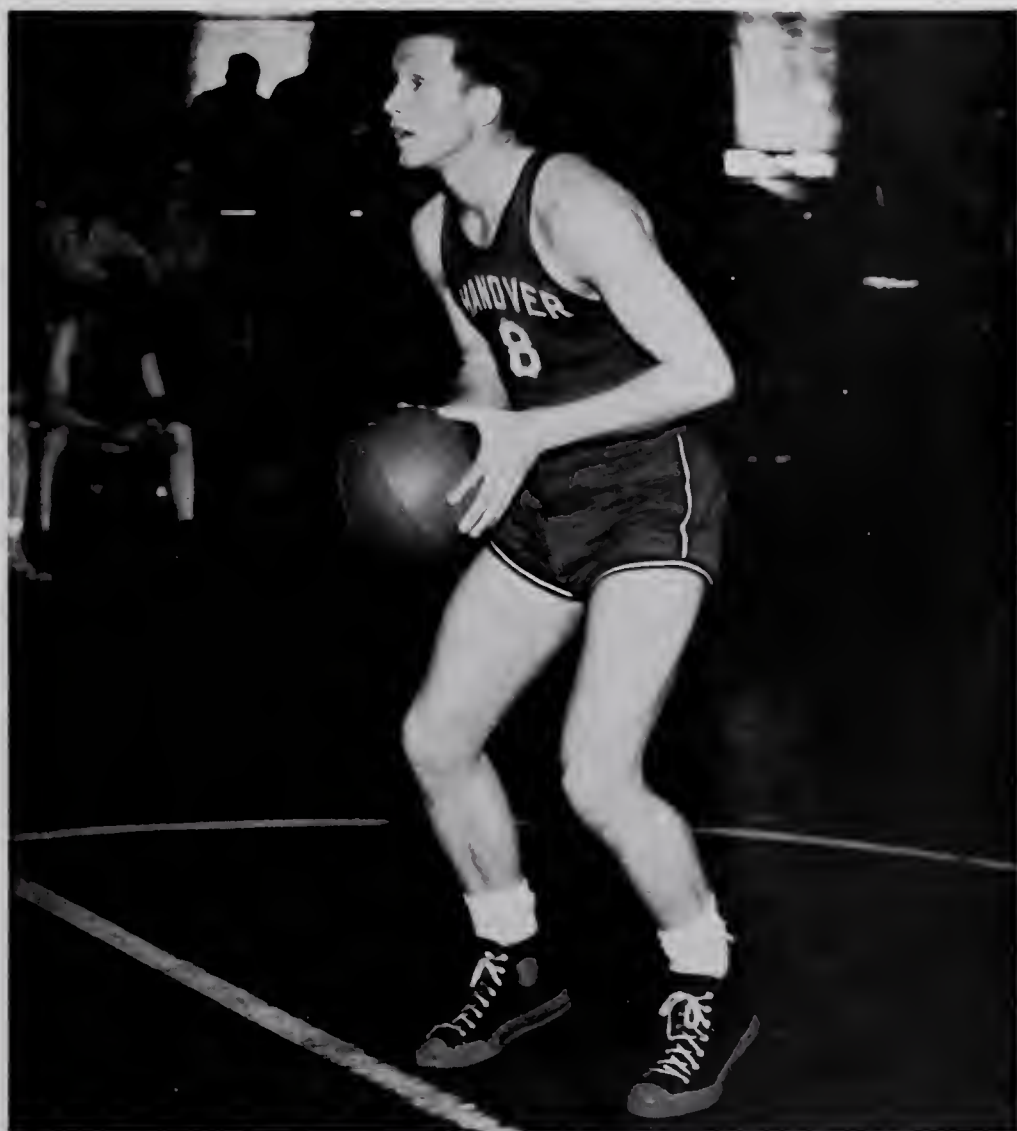

Regardless of the won and lost record this year, Hanover could not be rated as a poor team. It certainly had its stars. Andy Taff was rated third highest scorer in the state with 340 points for 24 games, or 14 points, average, per game. Andy was a freshman and came from Madison, Indiana. His team work was as brilliant as his scoring. Andy is sure to be back at forward next year.

Also outstanding in the playing and scoring department were Hanover's alternating centers—Dick Kendall, freshman, from Shelbyville, Indiana, and "Turk" Klein, freshman, of Madison, Indiana. "Turk" was the team's second highest scorer while Kendall was right behind him as third high pointer.

With these three boys back next year and a good many others, "Dutch" feels sure he has a good chance of turning out an experienced and winning ball club.

In defeating Union College of Kentucky 40-34 in the last game of the season, the Hanover basketball team showed improvement over the December game when they lost to the same quintet 55-40.

Baseball

"Dutch" Struck, Panther baseball mentor, started preparations for the 1947 season without the aid of a single returning letterman. The entire contingent of reportees was made up of men who had had no previous college baseball experience. Although this constitutes a major problem, Coach Struck feels at this writing that he will weld together a nine quite capable of representing Hanover College.

Unstable weather has also been a big headache to the baseball department. Heavy rains and cold winds have made it very hard for the pitching staff to get their arms in the best condition for the opening encounter. Wet grounds have prevented many days of practice that would have contributed to the success of the team.

A tremendous amount of work by Mr. Struck and his assistants was necessary in order to get the baseball field in shape for the season's encounters. Because of its lack of attention during the war years, Morgan Field needs repairs and reshaping badly. Mr. Struck hopes to have a first class field by the time the season starts. Because the season has not opened at this writing, there can be no results. The following schedule is that planned by Coach Struck:

April 23—Louisville	T
April 26—Earlham	H
April 30—Franklin	T
May 3—DePauw	H

Track

Paced by Thorpe, Murphy, and Garwood, and ably coached by Bob Hollar, the Hanover trackmen did themselves proud for the 1947 season. Hanover won three dual meets; Indiana Central, Rose Poly, and University of Louisville; and placed themselves well in the other four meets. Outstanding this year were Thorpe from Rushville, Indiana, who led the trackmen with $67\frac{1}{2}$ points; Murphy of South Bend, Indiana, who came in second with $37\frac{3}{4}$ points, and D. Garwood of Woodbury, N. J., Hanover's most able miler.

Morgan Field proved to be one of the best tracks in the state as 8 records were set on this Hanover cinder path. Three were set by Panther men; the mile, the high jump, and the 440 yard dash. Thorpe broke the old Morgan Field High jump record of 5' 8" by going 6' $\frac{1}{2}$ " in the air. Garwood cut 3.4 seconds off the old mile record and established a 4:51.4 mile. Also outstanding was Murphy's 52.7 in the 440 yard dash—the best Morgan Field has seen.

By far the outstanding feat of the year was Thorpe's 6' 3" high jump at the Little State meet. It was good enough to give him and Hanover a tie for first place in the high jump.

All in all, Coach Bob Hollar used his men to best advantage and turned out a team that all Hanoverians could boast of.

Intramurals

Athletic Director Don Veller instituted a full intramural athletic program with the opening of the 1946-1947 school year. The program included full seasons of touch football, basketball, volleyball, softball, ping-pong, tennis, and horseshoes. The wide variety of sports gave everyone a chance to show his athletic prowess along some line. The quality of competition and spirit showed by the student body proved that the program was not in vain. The contests were well attended and provided excellent entertainment.

Touch football was the first sport on the intramural docket. Competition was keen with the Beta's nosing out the Lambda Chi's by a bare margin. The Beta's had a won-lost record of five victories and no setbacks while the Lambda Chi crew managed four triumphs and one miscue. The Phi Delt's, Phi Gam's, Sigma Chi's and Independent's followed in that order. The teams were well organized and showed a superior brand of touch football.

Despite much changing of personnel from the varsity to the intramural squads, the basketball season flowed smoothly along. Undaunted by unusual situation, the Phi Gam's managed to stave off defeat for the entire season. Their perfect record led the Phi Delt's who were second, the Lambda Chi's who were third, and the Beta's, Sigma Chi's, and Independents who held the remaining positions.

The season was climaxed by a single elimination tournament which was sponsored by the Interfraternity Council. The quality of the teams was improved as the varsity players were allowed to join their respective fraternity teams. Only one loss was necessary to remove a team from competition and it was only after the stiffest of battles that the Sigma Chi's were able to drag out a win. They slipped past the Phi Gam's in the very closest of a final game with varsity stars aiding both teams.

Volleyball took the spotlight after basketball and with it came many yet unknown athletes from the frat' houses. After the dust had settled once more, and stiff joints began to move again, the score showed the Lambda Chi Alpha team had been successful with the Phi Gam's, Phi Delt's, and Beta's following. The Sigma Chi's and Independents shared the stellar.

At this writing the spring sports have not completed enough of their seasons to make any tabulation of their results. However, schedules are being met and the season will be completed barring too much weather trouble.

The intramural program is more than just another athletic plan. Besides all the exercise and physical adjustment that it gives, it is an excellent sounding board for fraternity and school spirit. The games and contests were enjoyed by a good part of the student body; a fact in itself that shows a measure of their appreciation. Along with athletic skill, some other fine qualities were shown by members of the teams such as sportsmanship, team spirit, and good natured fellowship.

Mr. Veller is to be complimented upon the completeness and general well rounded efficiency of his program. Another vital cog in the intramural athletic plan was Bob Parks, intramural manager. It was through his efforts and planning that the games were played on schedule and properly officiated. He spent many hours of work in aiding this most valuable activity.

W.A.A. Board

FIRST ROW—DeKalb, Sommer, Story, Eisenhardt.

SECOND ROW—Howard, Dean, Demaree, Jones, Miss Miller, Miss Hassler, Reed.

The Women's Athletic Association offered a variety of activities to the co-eds. The organization was governed by the W.A.A. board which met every Tuesday evening. This board was composed of nine members who, with the guidance of the physical education teachers, planned special programs and tournaments. At the end of the season an all around senior girl trophy was presented.

In the Hanover Tradition

The Greeks—the fraternities and sororities and the Independents—have always stood for Hanover traditions. Their ideals have been high in sportsmanship, service, and honor. This year they have done much toward the revival of those cherished customs which have been a part of the campus for so long.

There would be much to say about the nine organizations and their activities in the year 1946-47. So much, in fact, that we have only room for the names of their late pledges—those men and women who appear in the montage at the right:

Phi Delta Theta—Chowning, Peterson, Mercer, Cole, Hack, Heck; Lambda Chi Alpha—Allison, Williams, Randa, Musil, Gray; Alpha Delta Pi—Reiman, Hostettler; Phi Gamma Delta—MacPherson, Vizzutti, Williams, Silvers, Elliott, Kennedy; Beta Theta Pi—King, Aldridge, Gilliland, Wood, Spencer, Varble, Schrickel, Underwood; Independent Men—Garwood; Sigma Chi—Goodenough, Hogue, Hinds, Barnett; Independent Women—Polley, P. Sample, G. Sample; Phi Mu—Ogan, Gibson.

Pan Hellenic Council.

Stray Greeks.

Intrafraternity Council.

Alpha Delta Pi—this is not the year we remember the living room ceiling of the Alpha Delt house falling down—this is the year the furnace went on rampage and flames shot up through the living room register—calling for a new spring paint job. A new color scheme was devised and girls became temporary interior decorators wielding brushes and arranging furniture.

There was no spring measles epidemic on campus to threaten cancellation of spring vacation—but a slight scare of scarlet fever set the House in panic and drenched it with "Lysol" from bed springs to telephone.

The chapter was guided through these harrowing experiences by the capable hand of Gloria Allan. Much of her responsibility was relieved, however, by Jeanne Smith who ruled the fifty-four pledges with an iron-hand, or rather a hickory paddle.

But casualties were not the only things to be remembered about this thirty fourth year of Phi of Alpha Delta Pi. Homecoming brought to her two honors—the cup for house decorations; a portrayal of a jungle feast with Franklin football team as the main course, and the second honor was Homecoming Queen. Naomi Lasley was crowned at the homecoming dance.

A few weeks later, another queen was crowned—Madalyn Christie, W.S.S.F. Queen, at a benefit bazaar and dance. Chosen for Who's Who this year were Jeanne Smith, Gloria Allan, Rachel Kopel and Margaret Davis.

FRONT ROW—Woodward, Young, Hosler, Kemp, Schonfeld, Perigo, McCoy, Schureman, Kincheloe, Stevens, Stewart, Newhouse, Doolen, Schaefer, Randa, Bartling, Jansen, Benham.

THIRD ROW—Ellis, M., Eash, Swartz, M., Robinson, J., Helfrich, Lind, McNally, Purkhiser, Poston, Steinhilber, Robinson, N., Anderson, Johnson, Goodlet, Witmyer, Folger, Rutledge, Berg, Sharp, Steadman, Tillison, Barnes, L., Shepherd, Meyne, Ackert, Suelzer, Brenn, Owen, Bauer.

FOURTH ROW—Moskoff, Griffiths, Fewell, Luckett, Meyer, Mills, B., Mills, D., Schultz, Wells, Toole, Rau, Nay, Able, Pressler, Craig, Auxier, Morris, Flanagan, Kirchmier, Wilson, Allan, J., Maddux, De Kalb, Brooks, Mueller, J., Story, Guttormsen, B.

Phi Mu Remember the patroness tea and the frozen water pipes? All went well until the kitchen was flooded—much to the embarrassment of all.—And the South Sea Island winter formal? Summer was in our midst for a few hours. We went Oriental for the spring formal. How the social life had changed!

Of course, we can't forget winning the song contest at State Day. Ebe's arrangements were a sensation.

Rho found her place in the increased social activities. Remember—in the pouring rain, our pledges serenaded the actives . . . our serenades to the frats . . . the Saint Peter pledge party . . . the dinners at the Lodge . . . how can we forget the informal party—the barn dance? . . . and the Phi Delt-Phi Mu softball game—what fun we had!

Suzanne Rankin was chosen Model Pledge.

Rho chapter under the leadership of Jean Lambert adjusted herself to the rapid change in college life and stood ready for the coming years.

SECOND ROW—Kirkham, Ferntheil, Austin, Russ, Gross, Hodges, Maxwell, Dowden, Evans, Clark, Paul.

 THIRD ROW—Orewiler, Hopping, Eason, Polley, Heslip, Popp, G. Sample.

Independent Women "Sweet sixteen and never been licked"—those were the Independent Women of Hanover College.

This has been a particularly prosperous and happy year for the Independents. They welcomed the returned male majority, the football games, and dances. They shall never forget the fun they had in decorating their prizewinning "Penguin Club" booth for the W.S.S.F. bazaar. . . . The pride and exultation experienced when they once again won the coveted scholarship honor. . . . The hectic preparations made for their annual Thanksgiving Tea. . . . The struggle involved afterwards in protecting the left-over morsels from the greedy horde of ants, occupants of Donner Hall. . . . Then there was the time the I.W. pledges went on a rampage ran sacking the actives' rooms—a marvelous feat of destruction. . . . The jollytimes they had making money — selling shakers at the football games, the stationery-selling contest, etc. . . . Their annual spring formal dinner. . . . All these things they shall happily remember.

Yes, it has been a big year for the Independents—an extremely happy one in which they have done their share to foster and enjoy the traditions of Hanover College, their Alma Mater.

Beta Theta Pi After being inactive for three years, Iota chapter of Beta Theta Pi came back with eleven actives and eighteen pledges under the leadership of Dan Whallon.

They started the season by winning the intra-mural football games. And on into the winter, they added to their victories the inter-fraternity scholarship trophy.

Informal house parties and dances were revived in the fall, too.

Spring found them improving their house, and the actives complained about using the pledge side door.

Iota, well on its way to recovery, has a strong band to "March On In Beta Theta Pi."

 furder, C.

Lambda Chi Alpha The Fall of 1946 brought back veterans, and more veterans, to the Lambda Chi House—of these Richard Wayman was chosen president; Glenn Ross, vice-president; and Duane Douthitt, secretary-treasurer. And who can make these men forget using the back door of the house for days because someone had left a present for them on the front porch—a sweet furry skunk? Or the cold, snowy February afternoon they ventured forth on the first picnic of the year because the sun came out. The group experienced great difficulty in finding a place to eat during the year, but in the end most of them returned to the Donner Hall chow line.

In athletics, they excelled and were the winners of the intramural volleyball cup, although it did cost one member a black eye which was inflicted during a game by a teammate.

This year will not be easily forgotten by the Lambda Chi's—especially those G. I.'s and their first year after the war.

Phi Delta Theta Boasting the largest chapter on campus in the history of the fraternity, Indiana Epsilon of Phi Delta Theta returned to the campus with thirty-five actives and thirty-five pledges. Also, "Mom" Gray returned for her fifth year to watch over "her boys."

Indiana Epsilon's members, active in various campus activities, added to the social functions with their picnic on the beach, the informal "sock-hop" and their formal dance at the house.

John Thayer brought Smoe to live in the house and, from then on, we saw and heard about Smoe.

Of course, we cannot forget those so-called cars. Remember the sad tinge in the air when Blue Blazes would run no more?

FRONT ROW—Ccle, Ewing, Thayer, Thompson, Howard, Haines, Burton, Bliss, Diener, Jobe, Robison, McReynolds.

SECOND ROW—Clark, Winn, Whiffen, Jamieson, Hubbard, Millis, Troy, Mrs. Emma Gray, Cushing, Smith, J. W., Parks, Faith, Morgan, Miceli.

Phi Gamma Delta Others may forget—but the Phi Gams and those men and women fortunate enough to have classes there—will remember Phi Gamma Delta "Fraternity Hall," in the fall of '46 . . . radios playing in the background, poor lighting, the aroma of a cooking meal . . . all these things for thirteen weeks, until New Classic was available for use.

Sports are something to be remembered also—the Phi Gams were awarded the intramural basketball cup as well as individual merits. Hattie Meyer was given honorable mention in the "Little All American" for football and Charles Murphy broke Hanover's 440-yard dash record of 54 seconds with a time of 52' 7".

Ingenuity seemed to be second nature to this group of Phi Gams as they strayed from the beaten path of tradition, and sponsored a combination picnic-hayride-barndance affair instead of the traditional spring formal; not to mention the new game-room they were building in the basement of the house.

FRONT ROW—Reece, Records, Luckett, Shewan, Malcolm, Muncie, Carlow, Miller, Moore, Murphy, Guthrie, Masters.

FIRST ROW—Muchmore, Kamber, Mouser, DiGiacomo, Phipher, Decker, Lyau, Auxier, Burress.

SECOND ROW—Patzer, Harves, Middleton, Garwood, Haulk, Gourley, Ewing, Wager.

Hanover's Independent Men reorganized on October 21, and this new group quickly assumed a place in campus activities.

Twenty-five charter members attended the reorganization meeting when the following officers were elected: Raymond Smith, president; David Middleton, vice-president; George Lyau, secretary-treasurer; and Jesse Swing, sports director.

Things to be remembered by the H.I.M.s and the student body alike were their spring picnic at Clifty Falls; the arrival of Raymond Smith, Jr.; and that Tom Harves was the first to "float" one of their newly designed pins.

All set?

Quiet evening at home.

SECOND ROW—Offutt, Newton, Lapp, Janes, Wolverton, R, Meyne, Koeppel, J., Schwarz, Lueders, Wilson, Leavenworth, Tetrick, Phillipy, Roberts, T., Frederick, Darby.

THIRD ROW—Warrick, Thurston, Thorpe, Wood, Campbell, Hirsch, Moon, Wendt, Vawter, O'Neal, Morgan, Van Osdol, Rose, Goins, Storm.

FOURTH ROW—Wolverton, M., Weiss, Phillips, Isler, Barnett, Bragg, Fick, Rhoades, Best, Hooton, Roberts, D., Ross, Collins, Calvert, Bottoms, Fritsch.

Sigma Chi What happened to the Sigma Chi's in 1946-47? Why—they, too, started school with classes held in their living room while New Classic was going up. They won the inter-fraternity basketball cup with Andy Taff, who scored third high in the state, on their team. W.S.S.F. awarded them a shining cup for making the most money at the bazaar and dance. Bob Meyne was chosen as representative for "Who's Who," and Ed Lueders had the lead in all three college productions.

Their national organization set up a yearly scholarship cup for interfraternity competition at Hanover—and the cup was said to be too large to put any place but in the center of a table.

But all was not flowers and laurels at the Sigma Chi house—how can anyone forget the trouble with leaking drains and bursting pipes? For a few days the house became a plumbing school and a new sewage system was installed.
